Prof& Dr. D. Jayaramaiah, an Alumnus of IIT-Delhi, with forty five years of experience in lT industry (Telecom), R&D and Teaching & Training, has been actively involved with state of art, technology management and application software development at DRDO Labs and couple of IT Companies. Earlier he was head R&D of L&T lnfoTech, Bangalore Division and General Manager & Chief Software development at Navioncs, an Italian Software development Centre. He is a Fellow of the Institute of Electronics and Telecommunication Engineers (IETE), Senior Life Member of Computer Society of India (CSI) and senior member Project Management Institute (PMI) -USA.

He has Thirty Five Research publications, some of which he presented at various International Conferences organized by IEEE, World Wireless Congress, 3GMF, 4GMF and IASTED in different countries, namely, Australia, Japan, China,Thailand, USA and Germany.

A passionate teacher, motivational mentor and a disciplinarian with dedication to duty, who always ensured timely deliverables to the Customers' delight, across the globe and was instrumental for the efficient functioning of multiple offshore development centers in India.

Headed Information Science and Engineering Department for a decade in one of the reputed Engineering colleges in Bangalore, affiliated to VTU. His research interests are Next Generation Mobile Networks (LTE, LTE-Adv), Mobile Agent Technologies, Software Defined Networking, Cloud Computing and Network Management Systems.

As a veteran of IT industry and Teaching fraternity his current activities include social welfare activities, interactions with educational, Govt, Ngo's and R& D Centers of Bangalore, to enhance priotic environmental life stage of fellow human beings.